C. P. R. Promise To Burn Pass Coal

The following letter from the Minister of Public Works to Mayor Morrison, of Coleman, will be read with interest:

Edmonton, June 9, 1915.

Dear Sirs—

I have just returned from a trip to the East, when I represented the Alberta Government in the delegation of Mayors who interviewed the Dominion Government re the unemployed question.

I also made it my business to interview the officials of the C.
P. R. in connection with the coal situation in The Pass. I have succeeded in getting their promise to burn coal on their Manitoba division, which will mean that Pass coal will be burned by the C.P.R. on all their Western divisions west of Winnipeg to the mountains. Unfortunately they have a very large amount of coal in bank, practically nearly six month's supply. I could not get very much satisfaction in my efforts to get them to take more coal immediately. However, I am hopeful that they will take more than they have been taking in the past month or so.

I might say that I am having our Mr. Stirling go actively into the situation with respect to the market for domestic coal.
I am having him ask the operators to co-operate with him, and he will make a thorough encausus of the situation in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, which I trust will bring some results.

We are endeavoring to be very active in this matter and try, if possible, to save this situation before it is too late. Rest assured that we will do everything in our power here, and I am quite satisfied that we will have the co-operation of the operators in The Pass.

A. M. Morrison, Esq.,
Colombia, Alta.

Letters From the Front

In letters to his mother and sister, dated May the 27th and 30th, Walter Howe stated that he had been out again in search of the Lord, but had not yet found him. He had worked hard to bring him the Lord, with nothing worse than a shaking up and a few bruises. He did not know how he ever got out at all. It was too terrible for words. Only himself left out of a whole gun crew—all the rest killed or wounded. The first shell took them off and the next blew up their gun. He was resting at a hospital on the 27th, but hoped to be back with the battalion in a day or two. He says the attendants were very kind to him and the scenery was such as would make a fellow wish never to leave it. The weather was very hot, but the nights were chilly, like Canada's. On the 30th he states, "Am still in hospital, but nothing serious." I would like to add that the medical man back is a bit sore, but expect it will be better in a couple of days. I think the last fight I was in was the hottest.
Slaughter on both sides was terrible, but it is past now. I never was in such a tight corner as the one I just came out of.
A shell burst just above our gun.
How I escaped God only knows. When I came to there was no gun, and the rest of the crew were either killed or wounded. Then another shell struck the parapet and completely buried me.
The boys dug me out, but I felt rather blue. After that I carried bombs.
While doing this I received another slight wound on the knee, but it is better now. My back still bothers me."

On account of the memorial service being held at Hillcrest on Sunday evening next, there will be no service at the Central Baptist church.

Clinton Howard, America's greatest orator, will deliver an address on temperance at the Blair-more Opera House on Friday night next. A splendid program is being arranged.

Patriotic Meeting Sunday, 2.30 P.M.

A patriotic meeting will be held in the Blairmore opera house on Sunday afternoon at 2.30, to be addressed by Hon.
T. M. Tweedie, of Calgary, J. S.
Dennis, assistant to the president of the C.P.R. (formerly head of the department of natural resources), and Robert E. Campbell, M.L.A. for this district, on behalf of the Patriotic Fund and the Red Cross Society. Some special music is being provided.

the formal institution. The officers of Rocky Mountain Lodge

Mr. John M. Imrie

Newspaper men throughout

Canada generally will regret to learn from a bulletin recently sent by the Canadian Press Association, of the continued indisposition of Mr. John M. Imrie, manager of the association. It is gratifying to find, however, that Mr.

Imrie's resignation, which was tendered to a special meeting of the Board of Directors held at Toronto on May 21, was not accepted, but that leave of absence was granted him instead for six months, or a year if that period should be necessary to effect a complete restoration to health.

In late years Mr. Imrie has devoted his attention and energy to promoting the interests of the newspapermen of Canada and his splendid efforts have produced results that are thoroughly appreciated.

It is to be earnestly hoped that his health will be completely restored and that he will shortly return to the work he loves so well, and for which he is so well qualified.

NOTICE—Sewing meeting on Tuesday next, at usual time and place.

July 3rd has been set as the date for our Flag Day. It is the purpose of the Branch to call a meet-on that day.

Word has been received from headquarters that a contribution of $25.00 will be paid for the up-keep of the Blairmore-Frank bed, in the Children's Hospital, for one year.
Please make your contribution as generous as possible on Flag Day and we will be able to do it.

On Sunday afternoon next, at 2.30, there will be a Patriotic meeting in the Opera House, at which several of our prominent public men of Alberta will speak. A collection will be taken on behalf of the Patriotic and Red Cross Soci-

The Conscript

"Waving on high, tricolor I see
When stern duty calls I obey;
Mother and sister, may, weep not for me,
For I must be up and away.
Then give me thy blessing, dear mother, tonight."
"Twill e'er when marching along."
Thus spoke a peasant lad, bound for the right.
And these were the words of his song:

Chorus.

"See the tricolor waving on high.
Beneath its brave flag we'll conquer or die."

Nous but a dauntless shrinks from the foe;"
Onward to glory and victory we go."

Often times he thought of that name left behind;

That oft 'mid the moss and the fern,
Where mother and sister so gentle and kind;

Were praying that he might return.

Oft times in his dreams he would think they were nigh,

And once more so happy and gay,
Then waiting he'd dash the sad tear
from his eye,

And sing he marched on his way,

Fierce was the fight with the powerful foe,

And deadly the charge on the plain;
Many a gallant heart was laid low,

And many a warrior slain.

Yet mid the smoke and the sword gleaming bright,

Ah, there was the peasant so young!

Cheering his comrades and foremost in fight,

He thought of the words he had sung.

Clear shone the moon on the terrible field

At night when the battle was o'er.

There he lay, a boy who would the sun not yield.

Alas, he'll never fight more!

Sadly his brave comrades bore him along,

And buried him there on the plain.

Oft times they thought of the lad and his song.

His never will sing it again,

The Nation's Business

Facts are becoming known which indicate that Canadian skill and resources are not being organized to do all they can to serve the Empire at this momentous epoch in its history. The head of one of the leading industries has loyalty to Canada, but ever tried her best to do what she could for the Empire. The Financial Post has details of an offer received from the Government of France for the supply to our city of 500,000 shells, for delivery during the ensuing months of this year and the beginning of next. It was not a mere request for prices, but a request preferred because of the reputation for thoroughness and reliability which this firm has earned for itself. France as well as Britain needs shells, and her agents are seeking those with the equipment to supply them and the skill to supply them according to requirements. To get them a good price is offered—better than from British authorities—and courteous and satisfactory answers are given that no shells are required, the cash will be demand over. More than that, our ally goes further and offers to the experienced and skilled a deposit with the order.

Attractive as this offer is, it will in all likelihood be turned down, not because of the price, but because within the past few weeks that something should be done in the way of forming a corps for instruction in cavalry and infantry drill and for shooting practice. It is felt that as the Empire is at war every able-bodied man should put himself in a position to be fit to take part in the defense if necessary.

The methods adopted by the Germans have reached the extreme in barbarism,

and have shown that there is no course, however inhuman, and involving the lives of women and children, that they would hesitate to adopt.

It has suggested itself to some of the people of Western Canada that one of the methods the Germans would adopt

C. E. Lewis, B.A., B.S.A., superintendent of fairway women's institutes in Alberta, died at the home of his parents in Nova Scotia, the age of 33 years.

Some bumper crops are looked for, and also bumper weeds. Mustard is showing up in some places, as well as the stink weed, which should be attended to at once.

The Indians from Brackett came to Cowley on Friday night to play baseball with the local team, but on account of the rain a poor game was put on, only two innings played, in favor of the local team.

C. H. Powlett, one of Cowley's energetic farmers, is erecting a large building on his premises near town for the purpose of storing grain.

What might have been a very serious accident occurred on Sunday afternoon when Miss Walker, our local "Hello girl," was thrown from a horse, lighting on her head and the horse rolling over. A slight concussion of the brain and a few bruises was the result. She was unable to attend to her duties on Monday. All the girls in the office between Monday and Tuesday were saying nothing transpired on the day previous. She should warn her escort not to furnish such a lively stock next time.

The Women's Institute of Cowley, intend holding a concert on the 25th inst., at which time the members of the club, who are working for the institute will be present and the winners asked to read what they have written and also to take part in other ways. The Indians have already arrived and are very happy and contented to be here.

A good time is expected for what the women do not care to be anything but a success. Come and see if we are not as good as the girls in the hall. Admission 50¢ for adults; children from the school free.

Cost of installing an engine to run his sheepers, separator, etc., and for making ice-cream.

Mr. Peck, temperance and moral reformer, was in Cowley the other day and addressed a meeting of the committee. On account of the rain, the attendance was very small. He gave an opportunity for the opposition to present their arguments, but no one appeared.

Frank and Coleman will meet in their return league game on Saturday at Frank. If Coleman is successful in winning this game another game will have to be played on neutral ground to decide which team will meet the winning B. C. team. A draw will send Frank to Medicine Hat on July the 3rd. The following team will represent Frank on Saturday:

Willace, goal.
Marples and Lays, backs.
Kennedy, Tristam and Miller, half-backs.

J. Dogdale, T. Dogdale, R. Jordan, H. Varley and J. Johnson, forwards.

Varley and Fraser, reserves.
R. Bennett, of Bellevue, will referee.

Come and boost for Frank and see a good game. Kick-off at 6.30 sharp.

Hillcrest Miners Demand Internment of Aliens

British and Italian miners at Hillcrest have followed suit of those at Coal Creek in refusing to work in the mines with the German and Austrian employees, and also to take part in other ways.

The province that votes for prohibition still has less relation to the provinces; actually going day than an individual signing the pledge has of keeping him sober. When a topic comes up he is at least unanimous about it. All of him for the time being is sincerely devoted to temperance.

A province that votes for prohibition always contains a considerable minority whose individual convictions are at least damp. The province that votes for prohibition simply writes a pledge to suppress liquor, but that pledge no more suppresses liquor than an individual's pledge makes him impervious to alcohol. —Advt.

Partners

Said a whisky flask a cigarette, I'd like to make a good-sized bet.

I think that you can get more scalps, than you, Although your victim isn't so few. Said the cigarette to the whisky flask. Well that's as easy as I could ask.

For I give kids their downward start, Then you pitch in and do your part, The C. C. to you with a smile, and then there's the ones that sass tem tem. Most of them should count for me;

I'll take the bet, it's a cinch, d'y see.

Then the whisky flask had this to say:

I'm not a bad sort of thing that way;

you know, you s'pose, I'm not;

but I'm not even for a spell.

So the whisky flask and the cigarette said to each other, We're quits, we've had our bet, and away they scuttled by side.

Tempting for victims both far and wide;

In every corner of the nation.

Partners in crime and rination.

So there's our warning on the level,

Show them as you would the Devil.

The Liquor Act

The defense of the liquor men against the proposed Liquor Act to be voted on in July, from my talks with them personally, is that the Act is no good, admitting that prohibition is alright if a true bill is drawn up. That is, stop the making of beer in the Dominion or the importing of it. This cannot be done by the Dominion until a majority of the people vote for it and then have a law passed that is legal. Since 1913 the Act and no prohibition since that is impossible. I have taken the trouble to look it up and I fail to be able to find any fault with it whatsoever. It appears to me to be good, to be sound and concrete. The protest is raised that liquor can be shipped in from British Columbia by express in any quantity and that "blind pigs" will thrive. Yes, this is a fact. It can be shipped in by express and there is no limit to the quantity Alberta will do what it can to stop it, but the Act says that no man shall have more than one quart of liquor and two gallons of beer in his possession for his own use, so what good will it do him to take it in? In my opinion, he could not even have it in his possession or he would be classed the same as a "blind pig" with a fine of not less than $50.00 for first offense, not less than $200.00 for second offense and nothing less than jail for third offense. This you will find is pretty strong for sure, just having a couple of quarts of whisky in your possession. There will not be many chances taken. Many a man goes rich those days who cannot now make a living. Conditions are different. There will be very little chance to enforce it. The Act will be very difficult to enforce. The part of the Act which allows one quart of whisky and two gallons of beer to be received by one man, is probably being criticized and discussed more than any other part of the Act, but I have no strong objection to it. I know many a good citizen in this district who have a bottle of whisky in their houses the year round, who have never been known to be under the influence of liquor. These men are our best prominent citizens and held in the highest esteem, why should the life long privilege be taken away from them? They have never abused it or done any wrong from it. Very seldom does a man drink more than one quart of whisky and gold them to the bone, in my opinion, there is no common sense reason why they should be inconvenienced on account of the drink traitor, fool, who spends money he does not own, who puts on a bawling show on the street corner at two in the morning, disturbing peaceful sleepers, who rides down the sidewalk on his horse, making women take to the road, who goes home and beats up the road, who hangs around the hotel for two days after his drunk for the possible chance of speaking a word when he ought to be sleeping. After all, he says the prohibitionist is taking away his constitutional right and liberty. He should not have a right to live. He should be interned. If it was not for the question of prohibition would never have been thought of. There is no use arguing economy and financial figures, they can be construed by either side to suit themselves. It is the moral issue that is at stake. Do your duty as a man and vote intelligently. You cannot be satisfied with yourself if you do not. Get the Act and read it. —Advt.

"Too true, and also in Alberta. The new Liquor Act is certainly bogus, prohibition. Anyone with a dollar and a half will be able to get liquor legally. The fifteen or more men cannot do so, he must visit one of the many prominent and popular bootleggers who will sprout up like mushrooms in every dark and unwholesome niche in every city, town and hamlet in Alberta. —Advt.

cutting short the lives of 187 lives of broadwiners and leaving hundreds fatherless.

A couple of "spotters" have been busy around The Pass for the past week endeavoring to bring trouble to those of our peaceful citizens who feel like keeping a small supply of joy-making beverages in their homes. Most of those raided have long since acquired the habit, not only for the purpose of practicing financial economy, but also to avoid prominence around the hotel bars or the streets, and it is really unjustifiable that they should be interfered with. One fact is noticeable, and that is that attention is being paid by those "spotters" to anyone posted in our native dialect, but rather to foreigners such as Chinese, Italians, etc., who even through an interpreter cannot be made to understand questions brought to them by the authorities. As a result of numerous raids made, and parties brought to the court, we understand that only one conviction has resulted.

A Lament in Advance

(From Swift Current, Sask., Herald.)

It's a long way to Alberta,

It's a long way to go;

It's a long way to Alberta,

Where the brewery whistle blow,

Goodbye, Tom and Jerry,

Goodbye Rock and Rye,

It's a long, long way to Alberta,

When Saskatchewan goes dry.

Germany Vs. The Allies

The Allies' left is trying to move around the Germans' right, but the Germans' right is to the left of the Allies' left. Now if the left of the Germans' right moves around the right of the Allies' left, then what is left of the German right must be right where the Allies left. But if the Germans' right's left is left right where the Allies' right was right before the Allies left, then the left is left right where the right was right before the left's right left the right's left.

To face the man you hold a spite against? If so vote for the proposed Liquor Act. You can through it accuse the object of your spite with illegal liquor transactions. You are thoroughly protected. Your name need never be mentioned. (Read Clause 44) The object of your spite will be held guilty until he himself proves his innocence.

The proposed Liquor Act is full of dangers

It means petty annoyances, petty persecutions, large financial losses, complete removal of any legislation controlling hotel accommodations.

It means class legislation, wholesale boot-legging, increased consumption of whiskey as compared to beer, loss of revenue, large sums sent annually to outside points with not one cent paid to the government.

It means dives, lawlessness and encouragement of underworld business and underhand methods.

It means that the interdict has absolutely no protection against himself at all.
